

Environmental & Occupational Emergency Preparedness Team

Center for Healthy Communities

We are:

A multi-disciplinary team addressing environmental and occupational hazards and emergencies.

Our expertise is:

Disaster epidemiology; exposure science; public health emergency preparedness and response; partnerships; emergency management; population assessments; and data science.

We work with:

State, local, tribal, and federal government; healthcare; private sector; and community-based organizations to support preparedness, response, recovery, and mitigation.

Our activities:

Data:
Surveillance,
Rapid Assessments,
Analytics

- Conduct rapid needs assessments
- Gather data for decision making
- Analyze, visualize, model data
- Conduct environmental surveillance
- Map risks and vulnerabilities

Technical Assistance:
Trainings,
Consultations,
Guidance

- Provide recovery guidance
- Consult on incidents' health impacts
- Conduct trainings (on-site & virtual)
- Support jurisdictional risk assessment
- Support responder safety & health

Partnerships:
Outreach,
Collaboration,
Resilience-Building

- Strengthen local capacity
- Improve community resilience
- Support mitigation planning